Good morning friends!
Are you up already?

Take for example the worker ants!

They left for work early morning
With a smile on the face
and happy heart

The Ants work diligently.
Some are in charge of
cutting leaves,
Some are in charge of transporting leaves.

All arranged appropriately,
as directed by the team leader.

Day before noon,
the sun is getting higher.

The youngest ant complained,
"Why do we have to work
until this scorching afternoon?"

It could blacken my skin later!"

We have to collect lots of food,
so that our dry time is not
lack of food,
The chief of the team
explained patiently.

Moreover our skin is already black from our ancestors?

Everyone laughed at it.
Young ants blush.

Suddenly,
The ground where they stand feels shaky.

Earthquakes!
Earthquakes!

They shouted, panicked!

Quickly Head Team rose
the highest tree to find out,

What is it?

What's happening?

From the top of the tree,
visible from a distance
a giant dust of dust.

The longer, the closer towards them.

The harder the shock.

*Danger! Come on quickly
all climbed into the tree!
Many large animals run towards us!
The squad chief shouted*

Oh, Look at the Bears & Elephants
ran as fast as he could,

Like being chased something that is scary!

The Ants tried to ask
to the passing flock,
but no one listens,
For the cry of the ants
too slow to be heard
by large animals.

Finally came a turtle.
He ran as fast as he could.
But, you know turtle
although he ran as fast as he can still the slower than other animals.

the Ants Team leader
immediately jump
using a leaf parachute.

He managed to land on the body of a turtle,
without wasting time,
he asked about what is going on.

The forest is on fire!
Said Turtle

Run, save yourself!

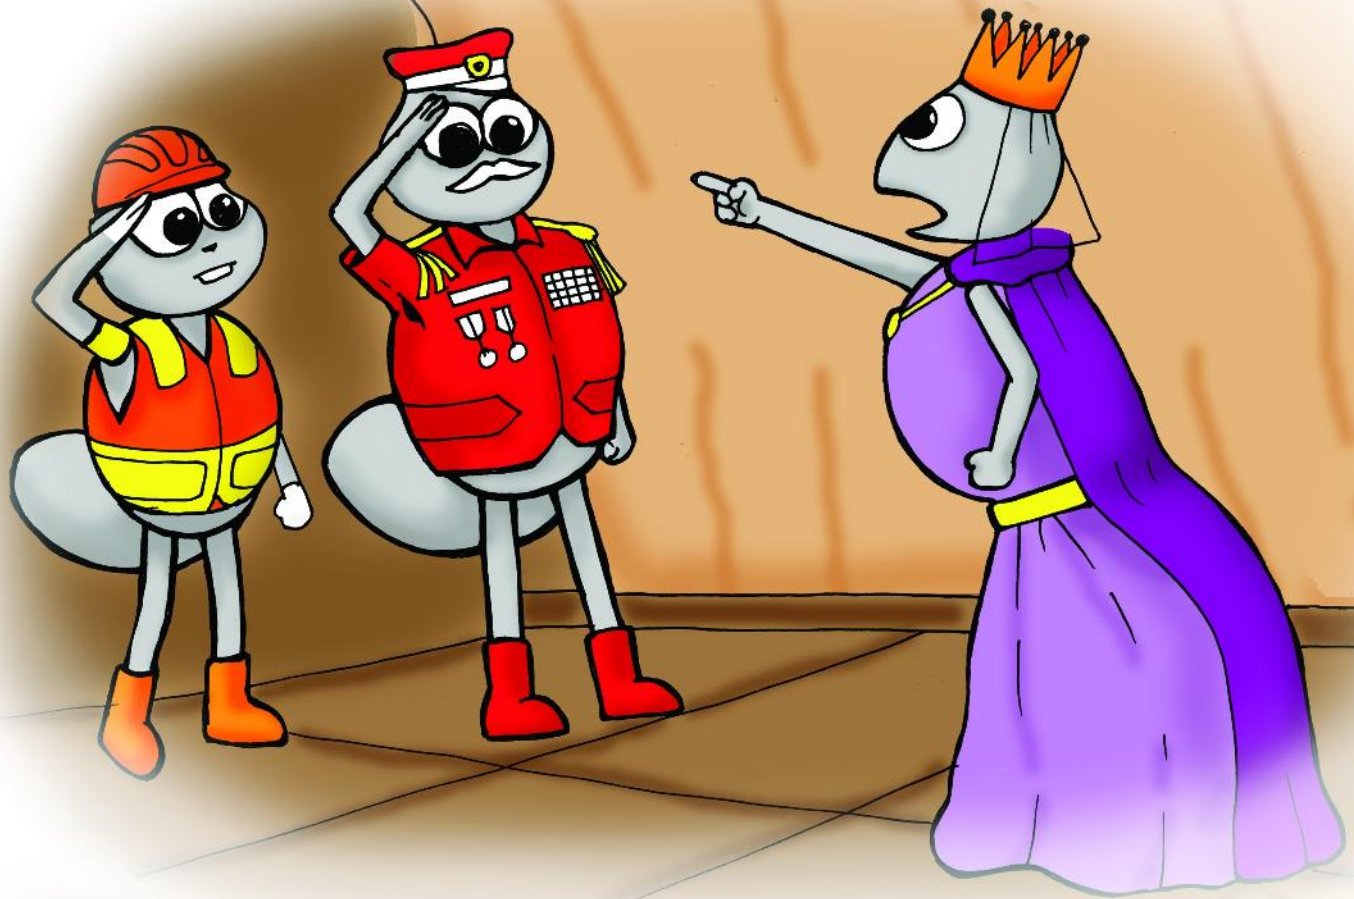

Once the ants hear it,
soon they running home

We have to tell the others!
Cried the Ants.

The Workers Ants Team leader reported about the burning forest to the Queen Ants.

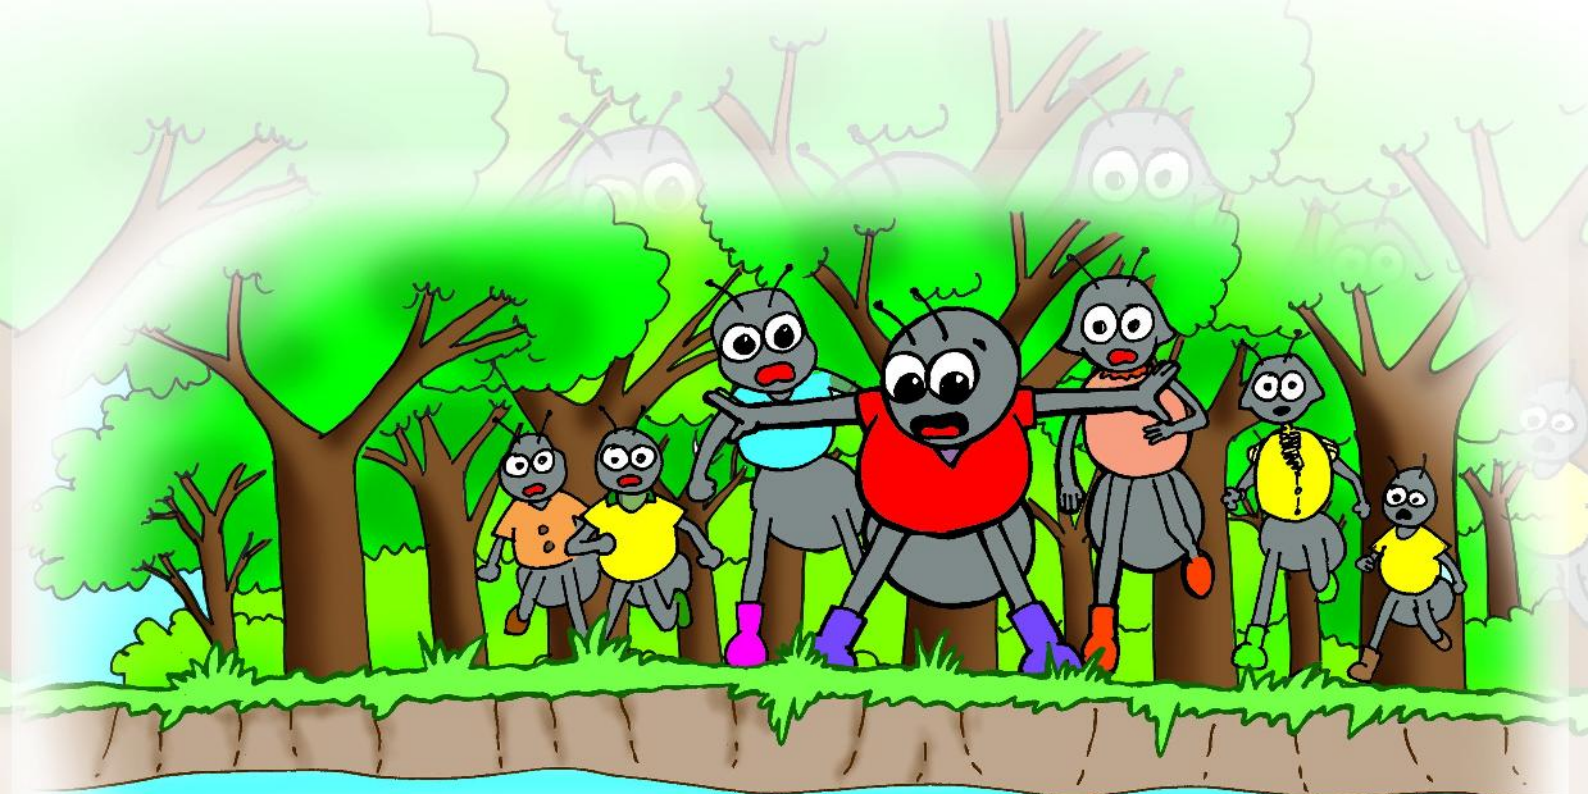

The forest is on fire, my Queen!
What should we do?

Immediately evacuate
the entire population
to a safe place!
The Queen's Command
to the Royal Commander
and the worker team leader.

All the people of the kingdom of ants
out of their nest,
running away from the direction of the fire coming.

Suddenly the ants step stopped.
Ooh, Look out for the river!
In front of them
stretches the river
which is very wide.

What should we do, Commander?
How we can cross this vast river?

Asked Queen

The Commander immediately thought hard.

Finally,
The Commander got the idea.
"Quickly instruct your men
to cut large leaves,
we will use as a boat!"

His orders to the Team Head Workers Ants.

Come on guys,
we have to work fast
cutting leaves,
to use our people
cross the river!
The team leader command

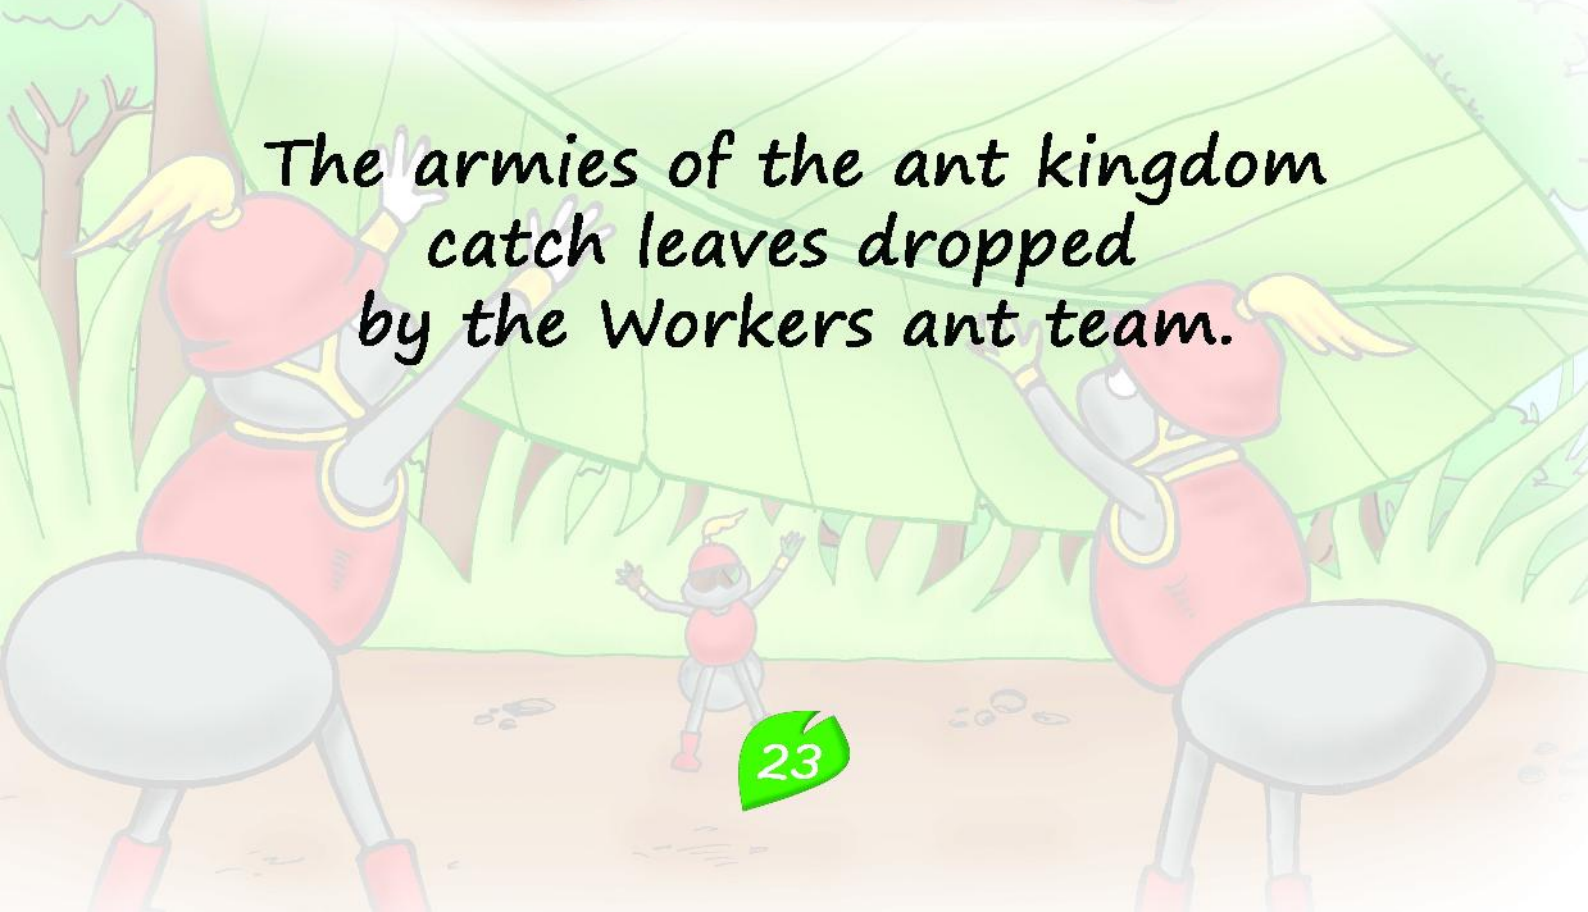

The worker ants
with agile exert
all of their abilities
to cut the leaves.

Watch out, fall leaves!
Shouted the Team Head
from the top of the tree.

The armies of the ant kingdom
catch leaves dropped by the Workers ant team.

Meanwhile,
the fire seemed to be approaching!

Seeing the fire approaching,
They work faster.
More and more leaves
which they dropped.

The ants in groups
start to leave the mainland,
sailing across to the leaf
as a boat.

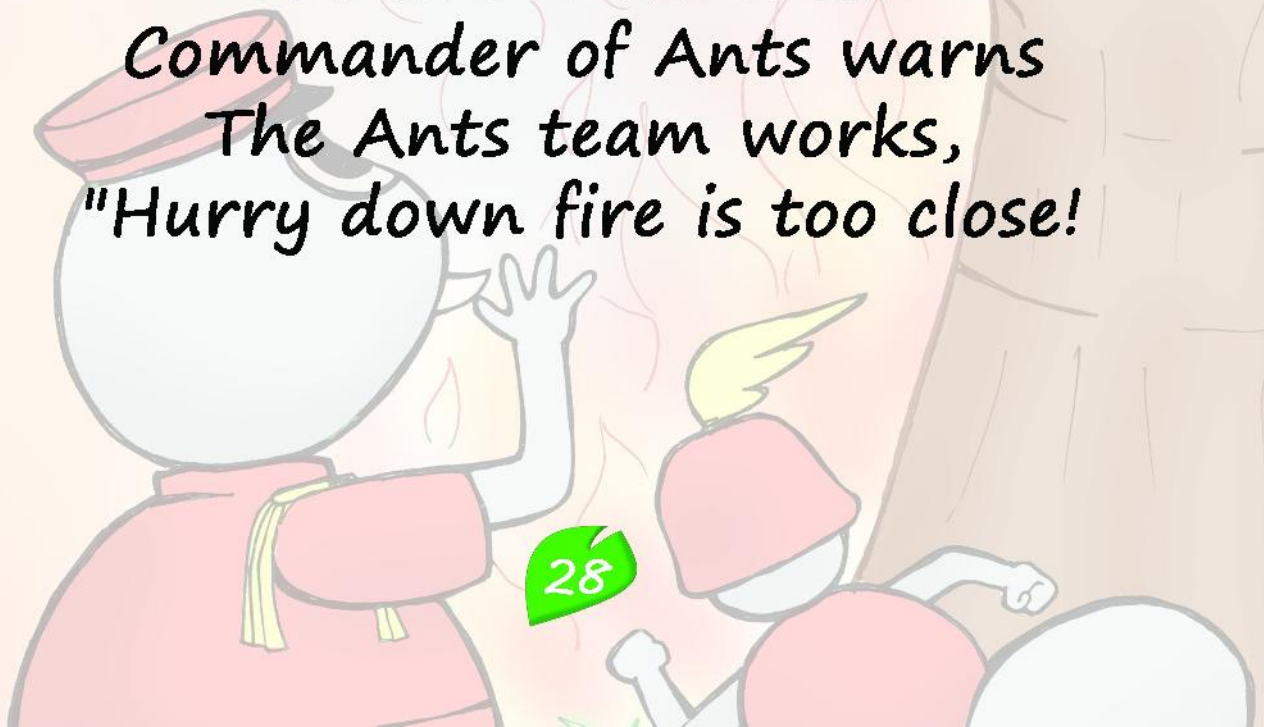

Finally the entire population
the kingdom of ants managed to rise boat leaves.
Sailing to a safe place
across the river.

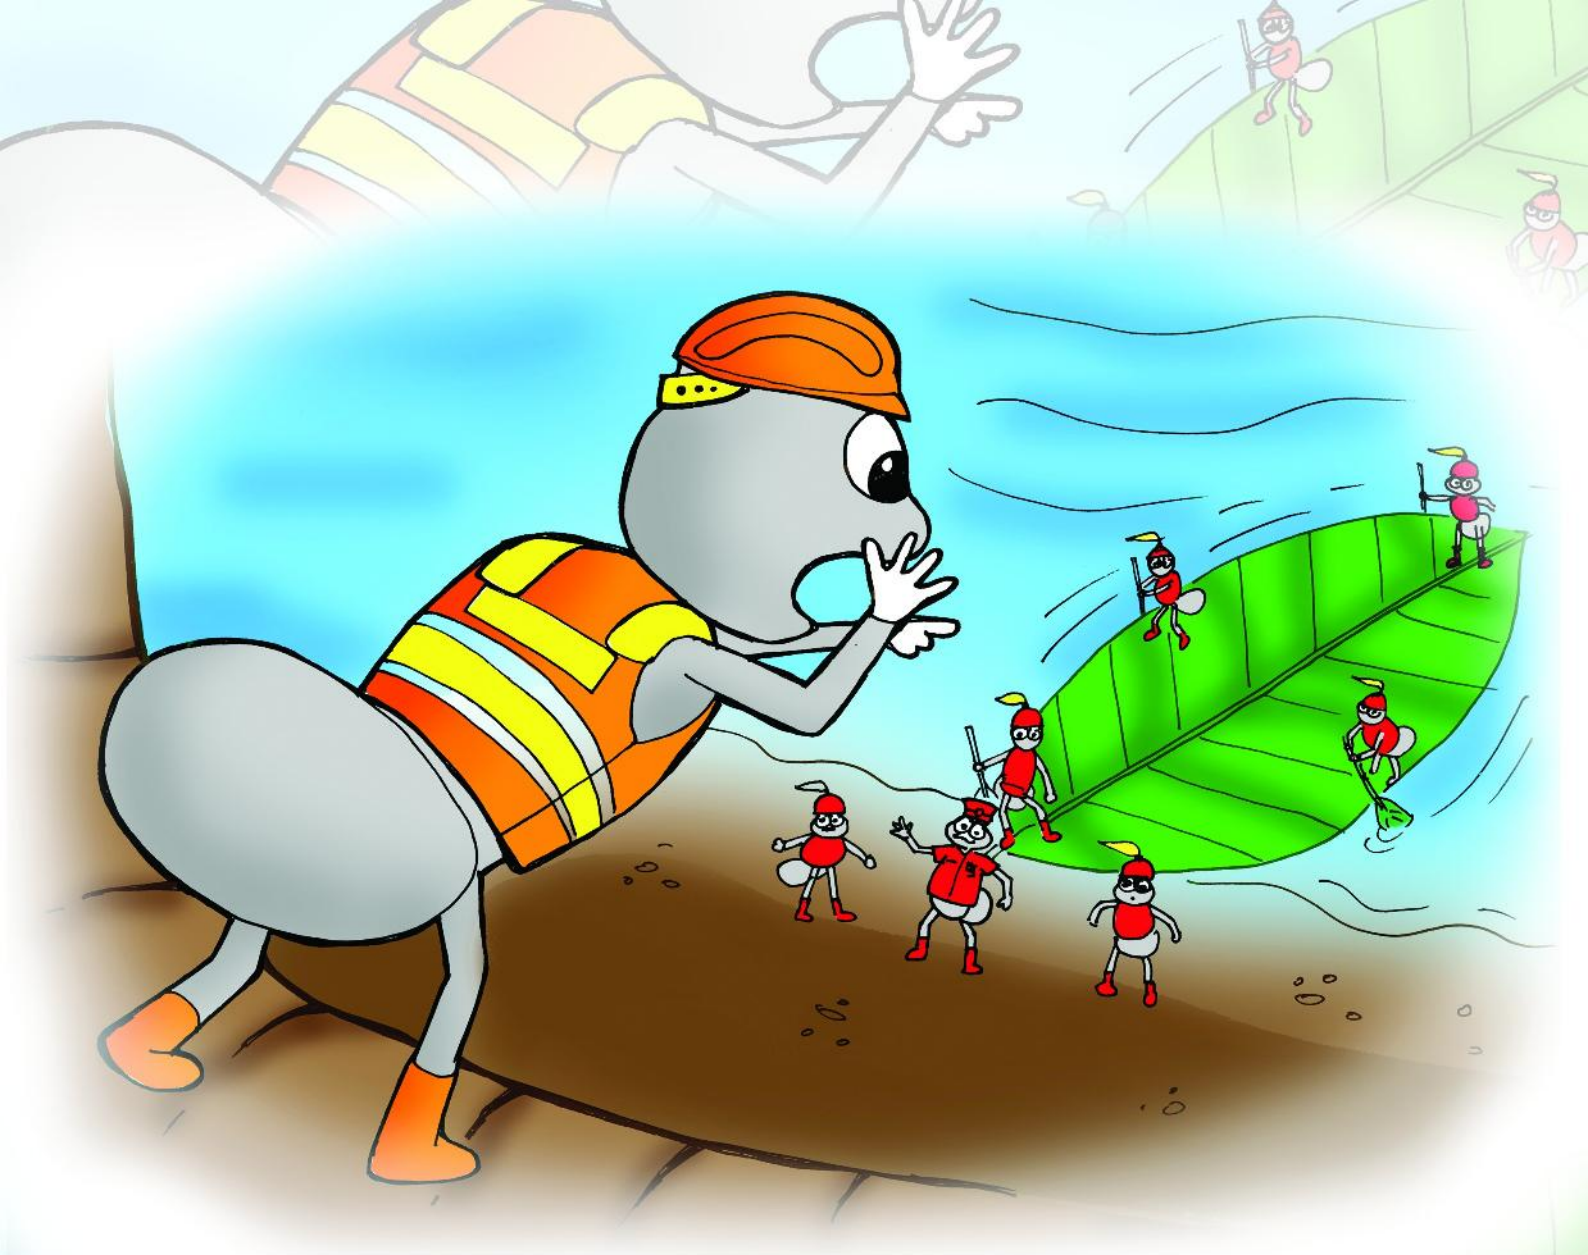

The fire is too close!
Commander of Ants warns
The Ants team works,
"Hurry down fire is too close!"

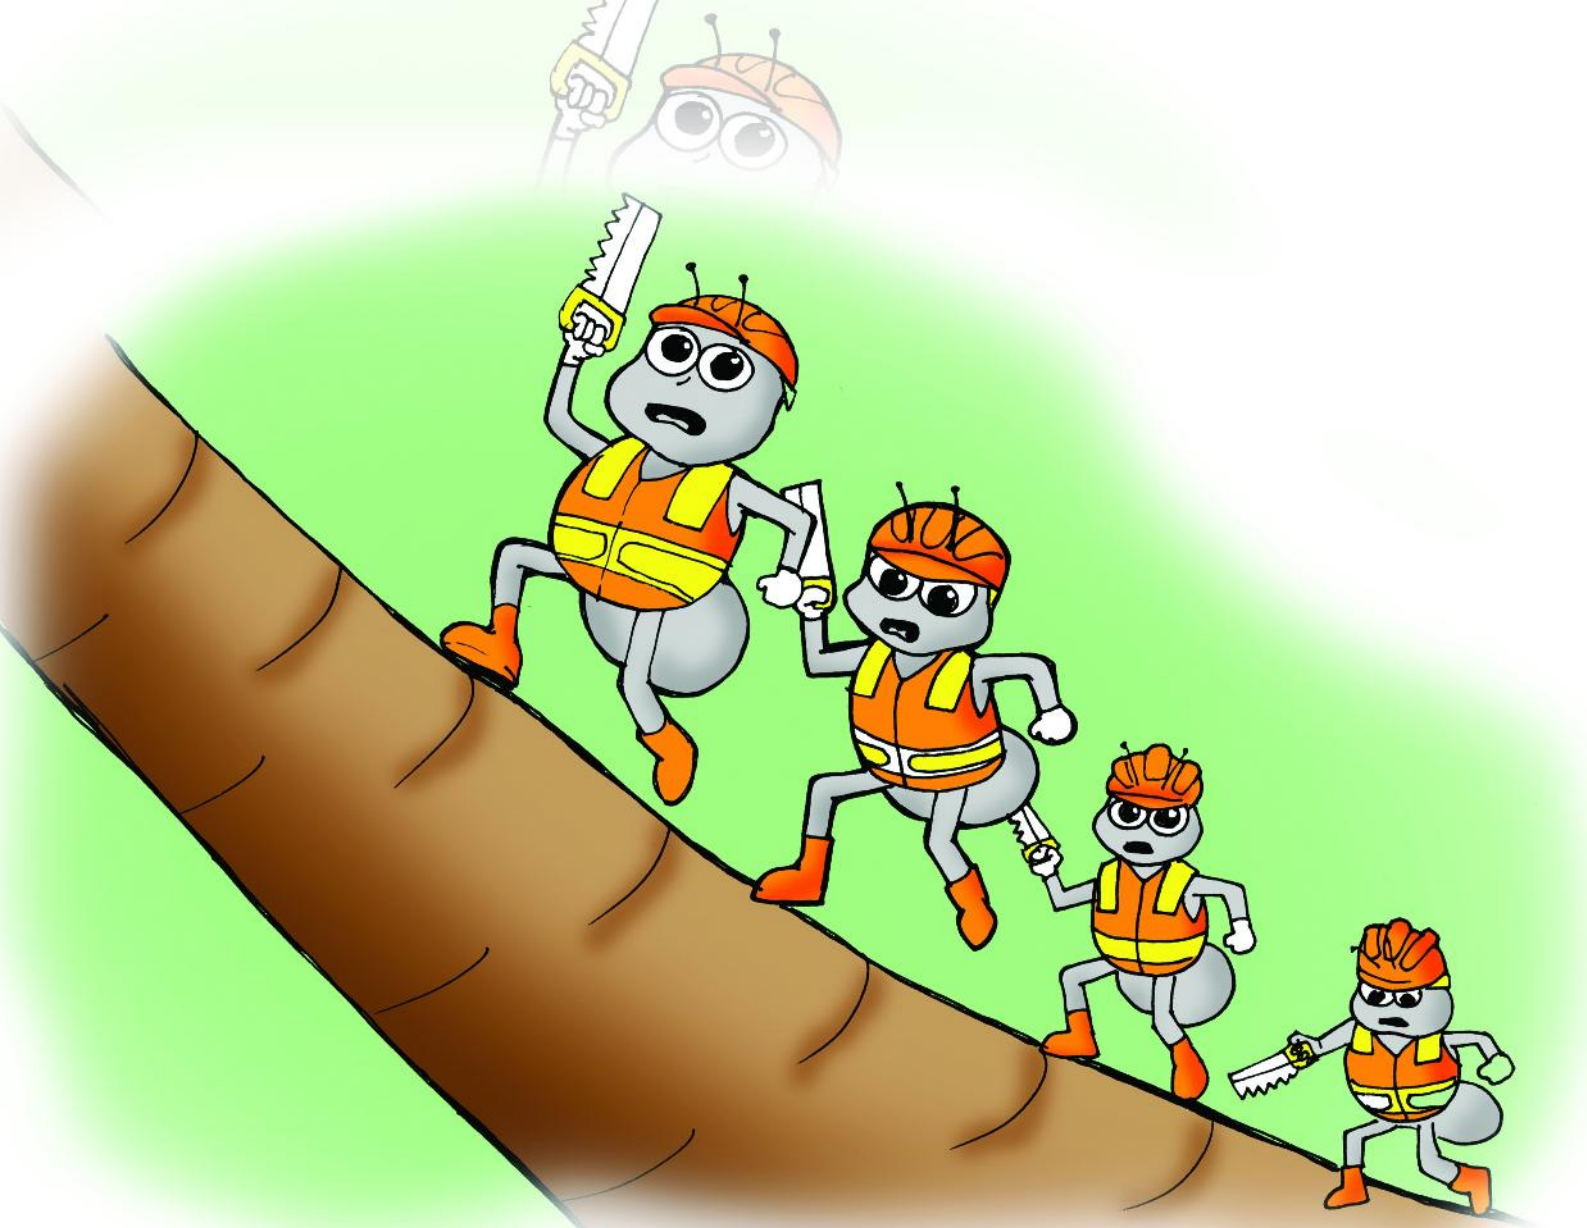

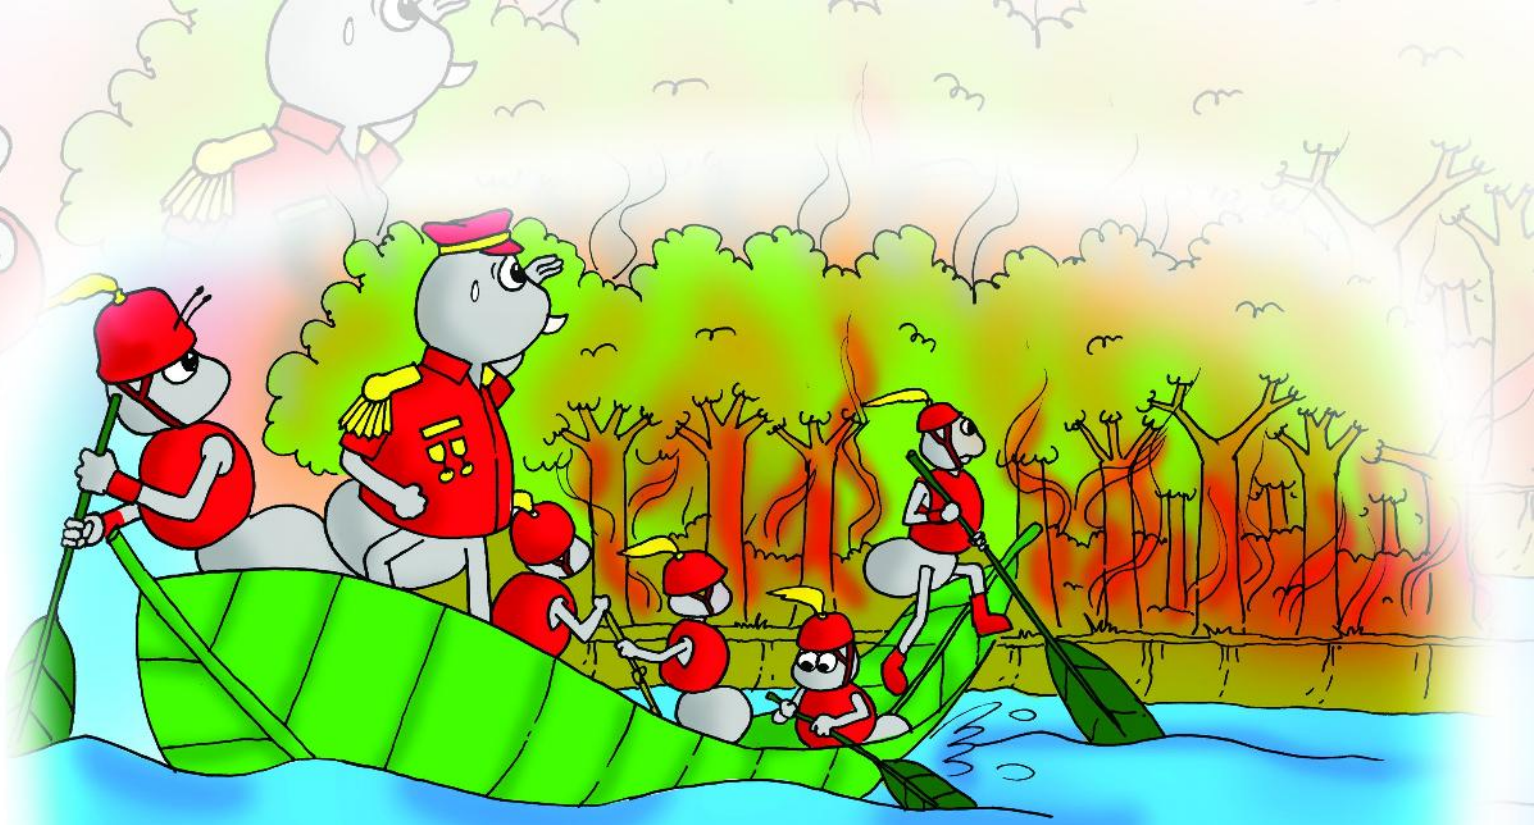

Too Late!
The fire has started burning tree place
ant team work is located.
How about this?

We can not go down,
Commander!
Get started before it's too late!
We will look for another way.
Shouted Head of Worker
Ants Team.

Come on guys,
we should look for that branch
at the far end of the river!
That's our only hope!
Command Team Head.

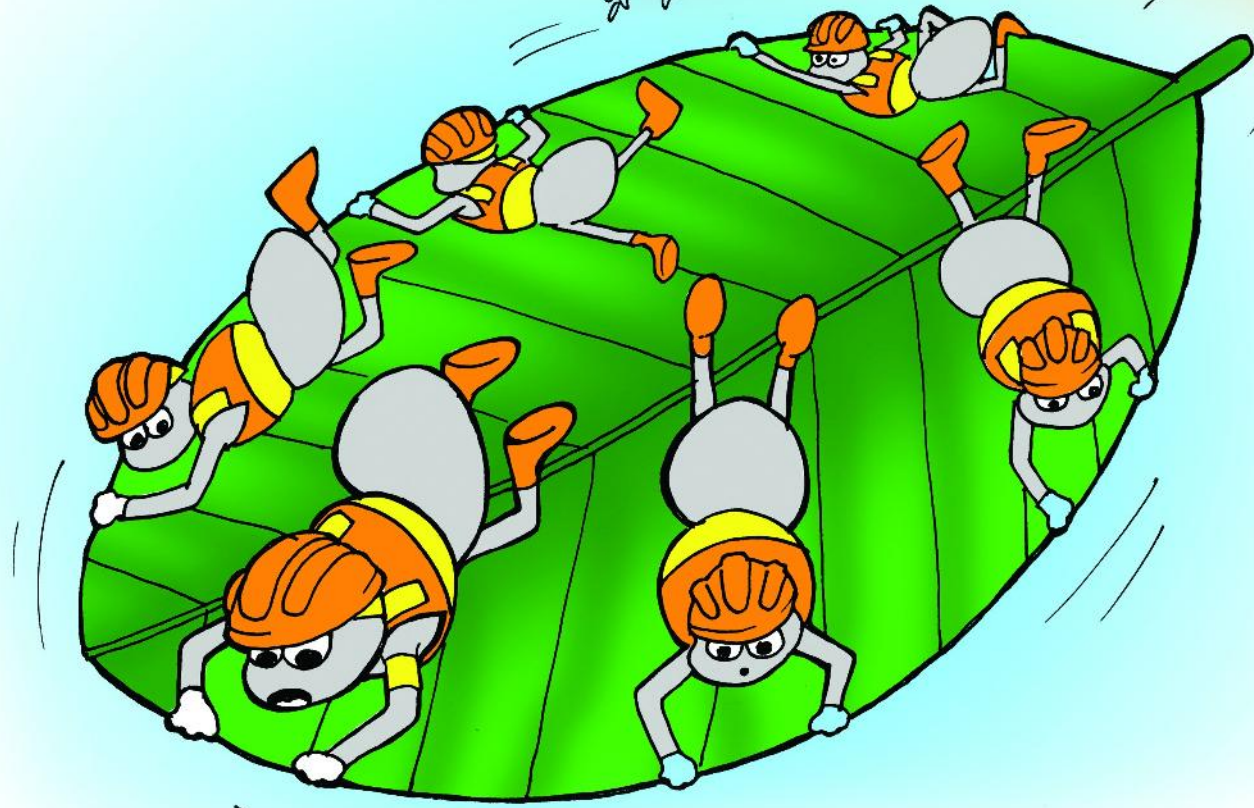

Reluctantly and sadly,
the commander was forced to leave
the worker ants behind.
The fire had spread to the riverbank

Meanwhile, quickly
Team Worker ants cut leaves,
then run fast toward the branch
which jutted over the river.

Yes, they will try to jump
straight to the water!

Hold on tight, Boys!
Shouted the team chief.
We're skating!
Just as they jumped,
fire burned down the tree.

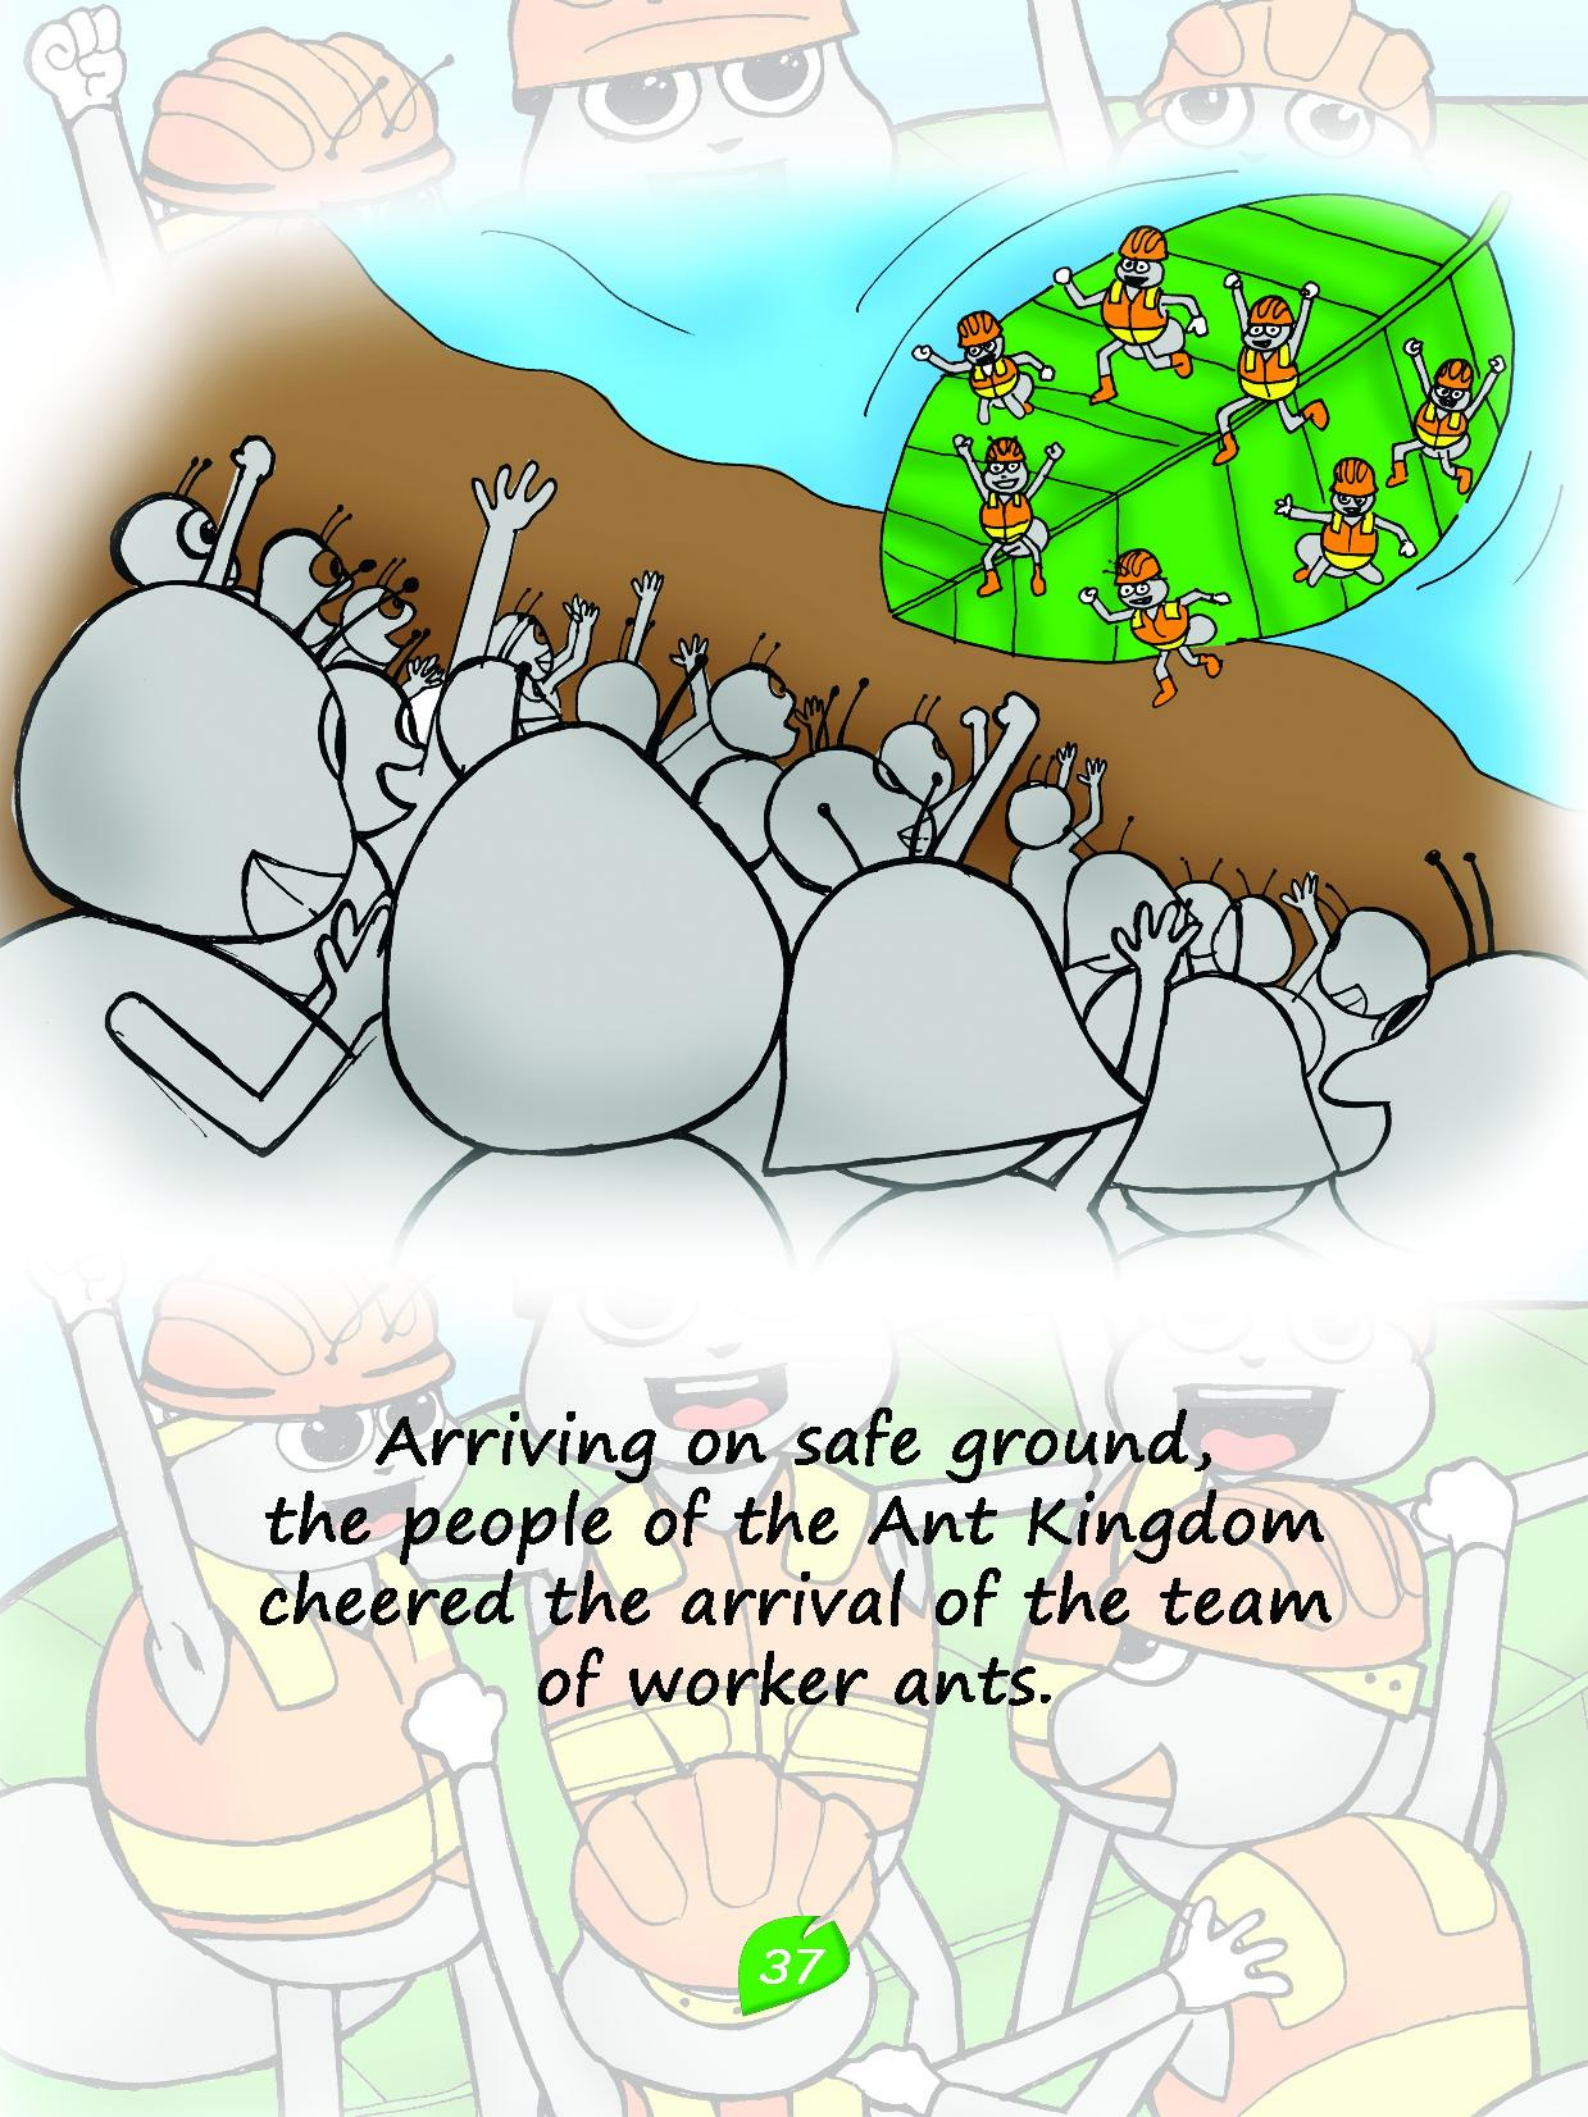

Swoosh!
They slam into the water.

Thank goodness they landed right on the water!

Hooray!
We're safe!"
The Ant Squad shouted,
hugging each other in excitement.
Thank you, God!

Arriving on safe ground,
the people of the Ant Kingdom cheered the arrival of the team of worker ants.

After the fire, the ants worked together to rebuild their homes. The story of the heroic team of worker ants continues to be talked about and told for generations in the ant kingdom.

DANGER!

*The Forest is on fire!
The ants trapped between fire and wide deep river
in front of them!
How can they escape
from deadly fire!*
